Surveillance and Enforcement

Stockholm Stock Exchange

The Stockholm Stock Exchange has issued one company criticism for infractions of the rules of the Exchange. These infractions were not of such a serious nature that they required to be handled by the Disciplinary Committee. The company was criticized for having disclosed price sensitive information in English before the information was disclosed in Swedish.

In September, the Stockholm Stock Exchange has issued criticism during the month to one member firm for having placed orders in breach of the Norex Member Rules. The issue, which was not considered serious enough to be reported to the Disciplinary Committee, concerned trading that gave rise to price fluctuations on the close of a trading day.

During the month, six cases have been reported to the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority and the Swedish National Economic Crimes Bureau, respectively. One case concerned suspected unauthorized disclosure of insider information, three cases concerned suspected insider trading, and two cases were about suspected market manipulation.

Helsinki Stock Exchange

The Helsinki Stock Exchange issued criticism to one company for having failed to publish all proposals submitted by the board of directors to the Annual General Meeting, as required by the disclosure rules on the Helsinki Stock Exchange.

The Helsinki Stock Exchange reported one case of suspected insider trading to the Finnish Financial Supervisory Authority.

Copenhagen Stock Exchange

In September, the Copenhagen Stock Exchange criticized one company for having failed to publish a number of company announcements on the company's website without undue delay.

One company was transferred back from the observation segment to its original position due to the fact that the redemption of remaining shares in another listed company in which the former company held a significant stake had begun.

Three companies were transferred to the observation segment in September. One company because it awaits the sale of shareholdings, another because it awaits a mandatory bid on a minority holding, which implied that a third company – the holding company – was also transferred.
