Surveillance and Enforcement

Stockholm Stock Exchange

In November, the Disciplinary Committee of the Stockholm Stock Exchange issued a warning to a stockbroker who had completed a transaction with no commercial meaning. It was concluded that this behavior was not in line with the trading rules of the exchange. Moreover, the two underlying transactions were not reported to the exchange within the time limit for transactions concluded outside the exchange.

The Stockholm Stock Exchange has issued criticism to one company for infractions of the rules of the exchange. These infractions were not of such a serious nature that they required to be handled by the Disciplinary Committee. The company was criticized for having revealed price sensitive information in a newspaper interview. Stockholm Stock Exchange also issued criticism towards one institutional investor for having breached the Swedish Industry and Commerce Stock Exchange Committee's rules concerning the disclosure of acquisitions and transfers of shares.

Riddarhyttan Resources AB was placed on the Observation segment of the O-list since the company had applied to have its shares delisted from the Stockholm Stock Exchange.

During the month, three cases regarding suspected insider trading were reported to the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority.

Helsinki Stock Exchange

In November, three companies were criticized for not following the rules of the Helsinki Stock Exchange. One company was criticized for having failed to disclose the decisions made by the Board of Directors to repurchase the company's own shares without undue delay. Another company was criticized for not taking adequate actions in connection with suspicion that information about a profit warning might have leaked. The third company was criticized for having disclosed a stock exchange release based on which it was not possible to evaluate the impact on the financial situation and future prospects of the company.

The Helsinki Stock Exchange criticized a member whose client had placed orders with the intention of influencing the price structure during the opening call.

Copenhagen Stock Exchange

In November, the Copenhagen Stock Exchange reprimanded a member firm for having failed to report a concluded transaction.

During the month, the Copenhagen Stock Exchange dealt with two takeover bids submitted by the fund Fonden af 20. december to the shareholders in Solar Holding A/S and Nordisk Solar Compagni A/S, respectively.

Two companies were transferred to the Observation segment of the Copenhagen Stock Exchange; EAC A/S as it awaits approval of the divestment of EAC Nutrition and Spæncom A/S since it awaits clarification of financial irregularities in the company.

Tallinn Stock Exchange

In November, the Listing and Surveillance Committee of the Tallinn Stock Exchange issued warnings to two companies for having breached the rules that prohibits trading during the restricted period. A member of the management board in AS Norma had bought shares in AS Norma in April 2005 in conflict with the rules. An entity affiliated to the management and supervisory boards in AS Baltica had bought shares in AS Baltica in September 2005 also in conflict with the rules.

The Listing and Surveillance Committee imposed a fine on AS Rakvere Lihakombinaat for having delayed information regarding the retirement of a member of the management board in August 2005.
