

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE RECOMMENDATIONS

INTRODUCTION

In November 2004 The Tallinn Stock Exchange and Financial Supervision Authority conducted a roundtable of so called wise men, during which people associated with various economic sectors came together collectively as a group of experts. The purpose of the roundtable was to point out the principles of corporate governance necessary to be fixed as a matter of good practice from the vantage point of issuers, (minority) shareholders, managers, auditors and other interested parties. The purpose of this roundtable was also to formulate these principles of corporate governance into established Corporate Governance Recommendations. Presently, the proper and appropriate principles are assembled in these Corporate Governance Recommendations.

These Corporate Governance Recommendations are to be carried out primarily by companies whose shares have been admitted to trading on a regulated market operating in Estonia ("Issuers"), except for investment funds registered as public limited companies. Other companies may also choose to comply with these Corporate Governance Recommendations and shareholders and partners of such companies are encouraged to follow these principles upon organizing their management and management control of the company.

The principles described in these Corporate Governance Recommendations are recommended to be carried out by Issuers and each Issuer shall decide whether or not they will adopt these principles as a basis for organizing their management. Issuers shall describe, in accordance with the "Comply or Explain" principle, their management practices in a Corporate Governance Recommendations Report and confirm their compliance or not with the Corporate Governance Recommendations. If the Issuer does not comply with Corporate Governance Recommendations, it shall explain in the report the reasons for its non-compliance. The Corporate Governance Recommendations Report shall be a separate chapter of the Management Report contained in the Annual Report.

The Corporate Governance Recommendations describe conduct, which contributes to better and more transparent of management and management control of companies:

- From one side, the Corporate Governance Recommendations must be a model for Issuers to organize their management, above all taking into account the Issuer's interests, and provide adequate opportunity for investors and other interested parties to supervise the management.
- From the other side, adherence to Corporate Governance Recommendations contributes to harmonization of disclosure and management requirements of Issuers, which is directed towards equality of treatment of investors and shareholders.

Based on these objectives, the Corporate Governance Recommendations will help structure the work of the management board, supervisory board, general meeting and also the disclosure of information related to the management and management control

These Corporate Governance Recommendations are prepared on the basis of Estonian legislation, structure of shareholders of Issuers acting in Estonia and taking into account the main problems that arise in company management. In rare cases, behavior has been described where the requirements of Issuers are higher than those arising in legislation. The bases of these exemptions lie in the principle that an Issuer whose shares have been admitted to trading on a regulated market must be guided by increased diligence in organization of management of itself and ensure the equality of treatment of all shareholders.

Issuers must comply with the “Comply or Explain” principle as of 1 January 2006. For example, if an Issuer’s next financial year begins in 01 January 2006, it shall prepare a Corporate Governance Recommendations Report concerning the 2006 year. In this Report the Issuer shall reflect the compliance with the Corporate Governance Recommendations upon organization of the general shareholders’ meeting conducted in 2006 or upon resolving other issues related to company management. However, the Issuer may choose to comply with the Corporate Governance Recommendations before this deadline.
