Olympic Casino – passionately responsible

Throughout the years, we at Olympic, have been known for our passion. It's a passion for every possibility to develop and to offer even more. We have never been just a gaming operator, because our utmost goal has always been and still is, to offer real excitement.

Passion is often perceived as something that is hasty, inconsiderate, even irresponsible. This is not the passion that we feel and share. Sense of responsibility, knowledge and understanding that even our slightest action is part of the world around us has always been integrated into the image of Olympic Casino. This is why OEG has for years been giving back to the society through different support programmes in the field of social issues and culture.

As for our core business, we have been pioneers of responsibility in all areas where an Olympic Casino has opened its doors. We are known for having the most advanced games and the best customer service, but also for our ethical values, integrity and transparency. For safeguarding our customers in the best possible way, we have long ago introduced restrictions that are tougher than regulatory requirements. Fully trained staff, information materials and tough controls on problem gamblers is only part of our Responsible Gaming Programme that has been in place for years.

I am convinced that close to twenty years of experience in a total of eight countries that OEG has – especially in the field of small and medium-sized casinos – is relatively unique in the traditional context. Today, the challenge facing us is not how, but where and when to shape this experience into new success stories.

Passionate, but smart

It's the passion that has kept our team always strong and smiling à la Olympic Casino and this has carried us to new destinations and new ports. But, as every yachtsman knows, you cannot go against the wind because the nature is simply too strong. As there are different seasons on seas, there are also different cycles in the economy. I was disappointed when some years ago the direction of the wind changed, we had to turn around to escape the storm and did not reach new ports as soon as we had planned. Those who had decided to continue the „race” lost their sails while the most daring captains even went down in stormy seas. During the most recent economic boom, many thought that it would never end. This is not how we looked at things at OEG, but we were also hoping that the rise would last longer. Perhaps we were also too optimistic in expanding our business. In the hindsight, I am glad that we had the sense to pull the brake. We had to quickly make some tough and difficult decisions to ensure that we got back to the course and that by the end of 2011 OEG was even more efficient, profitable and very strongly capitalised.

We have never lacked ideas, but we have sometimes lacked suitable economic climate for implementing them. Recent years have taught us to look even more for the so-called big picture. This has put us in a situation where we were ready to undertake major new investments already in 2011, but we wanted to be fully convinced in our decisions. We are known as an organization that is compassionate and responsible. In most cases, it's the social responsibility, but, in terms of significant investments and expansion plans, we cannot also forget the compassion and responsibility for all our shareholders, for those who really believes in us.

If all this was too figurative for you, let me just say that we have been a listed company for five years and this puts us in a very clear framework for disclosing our future plans. The short and official summary of the above is that OEG is an entertainment provider with a motivated team, ambition and high capitalisation level that is actively seeking possibilities to expand into new markets.

Financially strong, open to possibilities

Madis Jäger

CEO Olympic Entertainment Group

2011 will go into the history of the Olympic Entertainment Group as a year, which proved beyond doubt that the choices made in the previous critical years were the right ones.

Without the decisive restructuring in all areas of the Group's operations, which we implemented during the deep economic crisis and ranging from the number of gaming locations to strict financial discipline, we would not be able to now talk about the growth in revenues and profits.

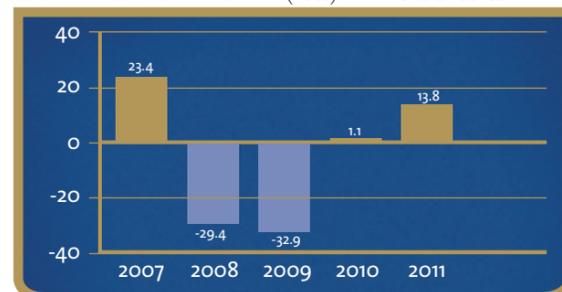

Our revenue last year totalled 127.3 million euros, an improvement of more than 13% from a year earlier. It should be noted that we achieved growth despite having, during the year, reduced the number of casinos by five and in spite of selling our operations in Romania in the first half of 2011.

The most telling signs of right business decisions and growth in efficiency were, undoubtedly the earnings. A year earlier we gave the shareholders a promise to reach a respectable profit figure by the end of the year and, true to promise, we did: 13.8 million euros is more than twelve times higher than a year earlier. All our key financial indicators showed growth.

At 27 May 2011, the conversion of share capital and its

OLYMPIC NET PROFIT (Loss) in millions of euros

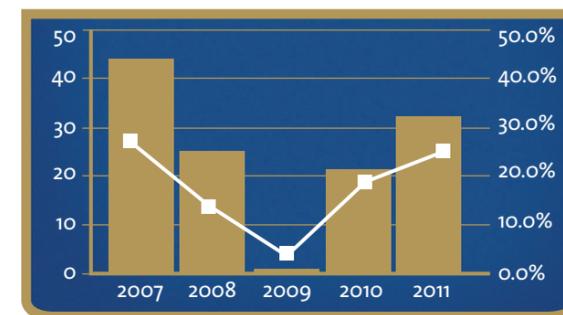

reduction was entered in the Commercial Register. At 18 August 2011, the second reduction of share capital was entered in the Commercial Register. Total disbursements made to the shareholders as a result of reductions of share capital totalled 15 million euros. As a result of the resolutions with regard to share capital, it is easily understandable why the Group's total assets fell to 101 million euros or 6.2% year-over-year.

Demanding investors

We have been setting the trend on our markets already for years and one of the pillars of this fully deserved fame have been our daring investments in new technologies and in the Vegas-type entertainment concept typical of Olympic Casino in general. In 2011, our investments totalled 3.8 million euros, of which 2.1 million euros was spent on new gaming equipment and 1.6 million euros on construction and refurbishment of casinos. As we have repeatedly emphasised, we place an extraordinary emphasis on the wellbeing of our shareholders. Our primary duty and goal are to fulfil all reasonable expectations of demanding investors. On this basis, we ourselves have become more demanding as investors and although in 2011 the Group did not expand to any new markets, we did reach a total readiness for expansion.

We have the team, we possess know-how and are financially strong and healthy, the three pillars that already today will allow us to be open to new opportunities.

Online casino seeks challenges in neighbouring markets

Indrek Jürgenson

Head of Online Operations

Two years ago, when we launched Olympic-Online.com, Estonia's first licensed online casino, some may have doubted our ability to operate on such a competitive market. During the first few years we have proven beyond doubt that there is always room for good ideas and strong companies. With the help of Playtech, we are now offering more than 215 different games and in addition, are a partner of the world's largest poker network, iPoker.

In our first year we successfully passed the so-called survival test while in the second year we managed to double the number of our customers. In Estonia, our home market, we have clearly established ourselves and in just two years have, made our brand both recognisable and popular. Olympic-Online is also partner for several web-based nationwide events, such as the web version of the popular TV show Money Drop, and we are also co-organizers of several live poker tournaments. Over the next three years, we will have a new prominent position as a major sponsor of the Estonian Basketball Federation.

This is our position as we go into our third year of operations. Our main goal for this year is to grow significantly in our neighbouring markets, especially in Latvia and Lithuania but also elsewhere. Over a two year period, players from „only“ 96 different countries have tried their luck in Olympic-Online so there clearly is plenty of room for growth!

Everything is possible

Right decisions behind profit growth

Meelis Pielberg

COO Olympic Entertainment Group

2011 was a good year for Olympic Entertainment Group. A year of cooperation, sensible decisions and valuable lessons. And last, but not least, a year of profit-making.

Today, OEG is present in six markets: Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Slovakia and Belarus. We sold our operations in Romania at the early summer of 2011. There are cases when you need to give up a business for the sake of success and profits. The combined impact of three important factors – overall worsening of the business climate, significant tax increase and, unfortunately, unfair competition – made Romania such a case. Lessons have been learned and I am convinced that we will not repeat such mistakes in our future expansion.

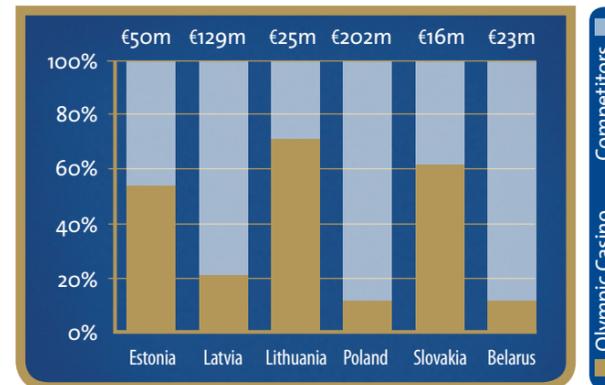

The fact that Olympic Casino increased market share in its markets last year is proof that our current decisions have been accurate. We opened a new casino in the town of Košice in Slovakia, and re-located our flagship casino in Tartu, Estonia's second-largest town.

We also notably expanded our choice of games we do offer – after several years, our casinos again feature the top products of Bally, one of the world's leading slot machine manufacturers. In different countries we added several games that take into account specific local features. In 2012 we will continue with innovations, and, among others, will be launching a pilot project for Cloud, a new IGT product that is currently in development.

Responsibility and cooperation

Responsible attitude towards our business and the surrounding environment has been part of the Olympic Casino reputation since the very beginning. We have always been open to partnerships that make the regulation and functioning of the

MARKET SHARE BY VOLUMES

Olympic Casino has increased its market share in all of its markets mainly due to efficient management compared to competitors whole sector more efficient. In different countries we have helped authorities to significantly amend regulations in order to ensure better compliance with the principles of responsible gaming. We have also trained policy-makers and supervisory officials, improving the understanding of all stakeholders of the gaming market and its functioning, and clarifying and increasing transparency in reporting, supervision and taxation.

A good example of cooperation with authorities is the solution that we implemented in Estonia in 2011 and that allows the regulator to collect online information from the gaming operator at any time.

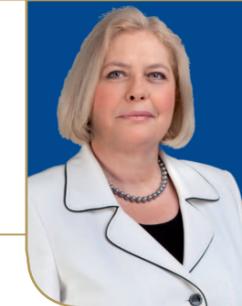

OEG has set a clear course towards expanding to new markets. The precondition for this is success in our ongoing business. A year ago we claimed that the lessons learned in the economic crisis will only make us stronger in the long term, and last year we proved it in practice. We increased the share in all our markets and, after several tough years, again earned a decent profit.

A few years ago our ambition was visualized by one of our most famous casino dealers Intan Pragi who hoisted the Olympic Casino flag on top of Mount Kilimanjaro. Today, the whole our team is ready to take the Olympic flag into new markets so that it can fly proudly in front of our new flagship casinos.

Year of becoming independent

Anne Mallene

General Manager
Reval Park Hotel & Casino

For Reval Park Hotel & Casino, the year 2011 was a year of rebirth when following separation from a large hotel chain we had to restructure the organization and set up independent sales channels. We successfully learned the first lessons of being "independent" and can be proud of our achievements.

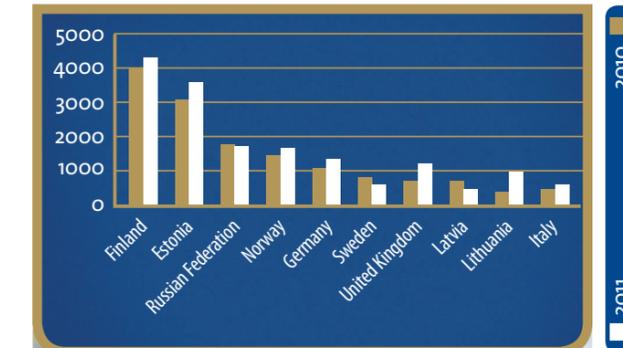

We did it! The number of hotel visitors went up by 18% from a year earlier. Even more impressive was growth in sales revenues: 39%. Although it is clear that strong results were influenced positively by Tallinn being the European Capital of Culture in 2011, our growth figures were clearly above the hotel market average.

Reval Park Hotel & Casino is the casino hotel for the region and the development of this concept has made us stronger and more successful. Generating customer loyalty is a major challenge for a non-affiliated hotel, and the percentage of repeat customers continues to grow.

After regaining independence we became the official hotel of several large events in 2011, including the European Junior Track & Field Championships and World Championship in Classic Bodybuilding. Such partnership projects are a clear indication that our image on the local hotel market is strengthening.

Without doubt, our objectives for 2012 are even more ambitious and it is equally important to gain professional knowhow so that we would be ready to operate also larger casino hotel projects, if necessary.

Olympic-Online poker pro on a winning streak

In 2011, Raigo Aasmaa, a young professional poker player and leader of the Olympic-Online.com Team Pro, won the prestigious GSOP Live series tournament in Prague and came third in the European Poker Tour tournament in Tallinn.

Aasmaa who during the year won more than 200,000 euros in prize money reached runner-up also in several tournaments in Estonia, as well as in Morocco, Ireland and elsewhere. "I am truly grateful for Olympic-Online for this year and wear its name with pride," says Raigo with satisfaction. "I recommend Olympic-Online to every poker fan: in addition to the benefits of the iPoker network, Olympic also offers attractive bonuses and has a very helpful online customer service," says the poker pro approvingly.

Like Olympic-Online.com, Raigo is already making new ambitious plans. "I will be definitely playing in some large tournaments outside Europe. I am young and I believe that there are more victories in line for me and Olympic-Online," said Raigo optimistically.

He is a regular guest at muscle-adoring web-magazines and galleries such as Muscular Development Online Magazine and Gymjox.com. No wonder, as Marian brought home the 1st place at Arnold Classic Europe 2011.

Olympic Casino — lifting the spirits and giving back to society

In October, Olympic Casino Sunrise Poland hosted the Indian style Diwaly Party with a special guest: H.E. the Ambassador of India, Mrs. Monika Kapil Mohta. Also present among the numerous guests were representatives from 15 other embassies. The party, featuring Indian music, an Indian buffet, henna-tattoos and Indian dancers attracted 3,000 guests.

For nine years, Olympic Casino Estonia has been supporting a charitable concert series featuring well-known Estonian actors and whose income has been used to support the Maarja Village for intellectually challenged young people in Põlva county. It currently houses 32 young people aged between 18 and 30 and unlike passive nursing homes, the mission of Maarja Village is to teach young people to cope on their own. In 2011, a total of 20,421 euros were collected in support of Maarja Village. 1,258 people attended the concerts and, in addition to the ticket income, all actors also donated their performance fee to the cause. The sum collected will be used for financing the various therapies of the residents, their participation in special Olympics and the construction of a village centre.

Latvia Olympic Casino's main event was definitely the international competition of the world's best flair bartenders, the first one of its kind to ever be held in Latvia. Olympic Casino Flair Mania 2011 got a lot of media attention both in Latvia and internationally but we should also not fail to mention the 5th anniversary of Olympic Voodoo Casino and the ongoing cooperation with the Ronald McDonald House of Charities, Latvia, whose donation boxes are located in all the casinos, nor should we forget Martins Foundation – a charity organization helping children with special needs.

During 2011 Olympic Casino Lithuania, in addition to having attracted a whopping 47,000 fans on Facebook, also organized many large-scale entertainment projects, for example, two musical power-concerts, a tribute to Bob Marley and one to the Beatles, to name but a few.

In May, the flagship casino of Olympic Casino in Tallinn Estonia hosted Rock Ride Party, a grand free moto-event. The Estonian capital was witness to a motorcycle parade and all those interested were able to participate in the low-speed contest held in the parking lot of Reval Park Hotel & Casino while spectators could attend a betting contest. The Sun, one of Estonia's most popular rock bands, held a concert both on the indoor and outdoor stage. The event included an exhibition of brand new Harley-Davidson and Yamaha models and exclusive custom-built bikes from Harley-Davidson and Fredy.

Throughout the autumn, Olympic Casinos in Estonia hosted the Stylish Choice campaign, with a luxurious Audi A6 as a grand prize. Unfortunately for the thousands of people who took part in the campaign, one ticket was all that was needed to win the grand prize. The list of 37 finalists included a beloved Estonian actress Liina Tennosaar although she had been in a casino only a few times. One can imagine her joy when the roulette ball found a ticket bearing her name from among the finalists! The luxurious victory campaigns in Olympic Casino take place twice a year and an elegant 5 Series BMW will be awaiting its new owner in the summer 2012.

Slovakia's proudest and brightest moment of 2011 was definitely the opening of the new casino in one of Slovakia's most beautiful towns - Košice. It is already the fourth Olympic Casino in Slovakia.
