Note 16 Fair values of financial instruments

Fair value is defined as the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between knowledgeable willing parties on arm's length conditions, other than in a forced transaction, involuntary liquidation or distress sale. As no readily available market exists for a large part of the Bank's and the Group's financial instruments, judgment is necessary in arriving at a fair value, based on current economic conditions and the specific risks attributable to the instrument.

For financial assets and financial liabilities that have a short-term maturity (less than three months) it is assumed that the carrying amounts approximate their fair value. This assumption is also applied to variable rate financial instruments, as the Group and the Bank did not identify significant increases in credit spreads.

The fair value of fixed rate financial assets and liabilities carried at amortised cost are estimated by comparing market interest rates when they were first recognised with current market rates offered for similar financial instruments. The estimated fair value of fixed interest bearing loans and deposits is based on discounted cash flow using prevailing market interest rates for debts with similar credit risk and maturity.

The following describes the methodologies and assumptions used to determine the fair value for those financial instruments:

Cash. Represents cash on hand for which the carrying amount is its fair value.

Amounts due from and to credit institutions. For assets maturing within three months, the carrying amount approximates the fair value due to the relatively short-term maturity of these financial instruments. For longer-term deposits, due to the repricing of assets to the market interest rates, the interest rates applicable approximate market rates and, consequently, the fair value approximate the carrying amounts.

Loans to customers. The estimate was made by discounting of scheduled future cash flows of the individual loans through the estimated maturity using prevailing market rates as at the respective end of 2021 second quarter.

The Deal

Total financial liabilities

Amounts due to customers. For balances maturing within three months the carrying amount approximates the fair value due to the relatively short maturity of these financial instruments. For longer term fixed interest bearing deposits and other borrowings the estimated fair value is based on discounted cash flows using interest rates for new debts with similar remaining maturity and credit quality.

Debt securities issued and subordinated loan. The fair value is calculated by discounting of scheduled future cash flows using current market rates.

In the table below the carrying amounts and fair values of financial instruments which are not carried at fair value in the financial statements are presented. This table does not include the fair values of non-financial assets and non-financial liabilities.

Note 19 Risk management

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that the Group and the Bank will incur loss because their customers or counterparties failed to discharge their contractual obligations. The Group and the Bank manage and control credit risk by setting limits on the amount of risk they are willing to accept for individual counterparties and for industry concentrations, and by monitoring exposures in relation to such limits. The Group and the Bank have established a credit quality review process to provide early identification of possible changes in the creditworthiness of counterparties, including regular collateral revision. The credit quality review process allows the Group and the Bank to assess the potential loss to which it is exposed and to take corrective action. The Bank makes available to its customers guarantees which may require that the Bank makes payments on their behalf. They expose the Bank to similar risks as loans and these are mitigated by the same control processes and policies. In cases, when cash flows of nonperforming loans are based on expected cash flows to be recovered from sale of collateral, value of the collateral is an important estimate in calculating impairment losses for loans and receivables.

The Bank and the Group have to comply with the limit to large exposures (maximum exposure to single customer) set in Regulation (EU) No 575/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council. Exposure to a customer or group of connected customers can not exceed 25 percent of the Bank's and Group's eligible capital. According to Regulation (EU) No 876/2019, effective since 28 June 2021, the maximum exposure ratio is calculated based on Tier 1 capital.

Compliance to this requirement is disclosed in the table below:

Credit risk assessment

When evaluating financial instruments, the Group and the Bank apply specific valuation criteria and procedures on the clients. Due to the change in credit risk since initial recognition loans are divided into three stages:

- Stage 1 all performing loans, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk since the initial recognition, and it's expected that the borrower has strong capacity to meet contractual future cash flows.
- Stage 2 loans when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition.
- Stage 3 all defaulted loans with recognized loss events and POCI (purchased or originated credit-impaired) assets.

Bank, together with other Lithuanian credit companies, signed a moratorium on postponement of credit liabilities in April 2020, in order to alleviate the situation of customers facing difficulties with COVID-19.

By the moratorium on assistance to corporate customers the bank undertook to defer loan payments to companies for up to 6 months without changing contract terms and interest (the moratorium applies to corporate loans totaling up to EUR 5 million per group of companies and which have not had significant delays last year).

Under this Moratorium all private individuals properly fulfilling payments prior to the quarantine, however facing financial difficulties due to the coronavirus situation, and having lost their jobs or part of their income, can, after informing their financial and credit institutions in writing, have the repayment of the principal part of their home loan postponed for up to 12 months. For consumer credit and leasing, institutions will apply postponements for up to half a year during the Moratorium period. During the postponement period, the client will only have to pay interest and other periodical payments.

Credit deferrals were mainly requested by companies in the real estate, wholesale and retail trade, accommodation and catering, and manufacturing sectors.

A total of 162 applications have been approved for business customers, with the total net deferred amount EUR 34.24 million, 13 applications have been approved for private customers, with the total net deferred amount EUR 0.71 million.

As of 30 June, 2021, this portfolio amounted to net value of EUR 7,611 million, and provisions EUR 0,178 million.
