Lietuvos Telekomas on the Domestic Telecommunications Market

In 2004, Lithuania's telecommunications market, covering fixed telephone communication, mobile telephone communication, leased lines, Internet access and networks interconnection services was valued at LTL 2.14 billion. As the voice services market approaches saturation, the Internet services become the key driver for telecommunications market development.

According to the data of Communications Regulatory Authority, in the fourth quarter of 2004 Lietuvos Telekomas fixed telephone communication (excluding the network interconnections) market share reached 94.4 per cent in regard to the revenues, and 95 per cent according to the total calls traffic (98.6 per cent local, 91.9 per cent domestic long-distance, 71.8 per cent international and 90.7 per cent of calls from fixed to mobile telecommunications networks). At the end of 2004 21 companies provided international fixed telecommunication services in Lithuania, 9 of the aforementioned, including Lietuvos Telekomas also provided local and/or domestic long-distance calls services.

At the end of 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas had 819 thousand main telephone communication lines or 9 thousand less than in 2003. Taking into consideration the fact that 108 thousand lines were disconnected in 2003 it can be stated that the Company succeeded in stopping the reduction of number of lines and stabilize the situation. The largest reduction in 2004 was faced in regard to the residential customers' lines. The number of main lines, used by business customers has increased. On 31 December 2004 the number of fixed telephone communication lines per 100 residents was 23.9.

For provision of services in rural and more remote areas Lietuvos Telekomas used mobile networks of GSM and NMT-450 standards. At the end of 2004 the Company had approximately 39 thousand lines, connected to the network by using the GSM and NMT-450 technologies.

At the end of 2004, the Internet services of Lietuvos Telekomas were used by 16.3 per cent of all the Internet users of the country. In the fourth quarter of 2004, the Company had 47.3 per cent of the Internet service provision market in regard to the revenues. The number of users of ADSL technology based DSL Takas and Takas iD services reached 47,500, i.e. two times more than in the previous year. 2.7 thousand ADSL access services were sold on the wholesale market in 2004.

At the end of 2004 35.7 thousand Lietuvos Telekomas service users connected to the Internet via the dial-up services.

In 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas remained the main data communication service provider in Lithuania – according to the market research data more than 60 per cent of users of the said services were the customers of the Company.

According to the data of Telecommunications Regulatory Authority, in the fourth quarter of 2004 the Company had 44.7 per cent of the leased lines market in regard to the revenues. The number of main telephone lines reduced by 1.5 per cent comparing with 2003.

Voice Telephony Services

The service pricing changes and new payment plan offerings, which occurred last year, are changing the fixed telecommunication usage habits – the residential customers are re-discovering the advantages of fixed telecommunication and are starting to use it more actively. The duration of local and domestic long-distance calls in the residential customers segment grew by 24.2 per cent, the duration of calls to mobile networks increased by 21.9 per cent, the duration of international calls in the residential segment grew by 49 per cent in 2004.

Payment Plans

During 2004 the number of users of Vietinis (Local) and Šalies (Country) payment plans increased by almost 12 per cent and reached 352 thousand at the end of the year. As of 31 December 2004 55 per cent of all the residential customers used Vietinis (Local) and Šalies (Country) payment plans. Such increase of the number of users was induced by the following change in the plans: the users were additionally granted 30 hours of off-peak hour calls for the same fee.

Starting from July 2004 the residential customers were granted the possibility to use the “selected free-of-charge number” service. A residential customer, upon paying the fixed monthly fee gets the opportunity to make calls to the selected local or domestic long-distance number without restrictions. In October 2004, the Savi payment plan, the users of which get the possibility to make calls to three selected mobile operators' numbers at significantly lower prices was offered onto the market.

The number of users of Pasaulis (World) international calls payment plan grew more than 4 times during the year. As of 31 December 2004 more than 24 thousand residential customers used the said plan. Such increase was stipulated by the following main factors: rapid integration of the country into the European Union and the attractiveness of the payment plan. The users of Pasaulis (World), upon paying a certain monthly fee get the possibility to make calls to the selected group of countries at an especially favorable tariff of 0.26 litas per minute. The residential customers, who order the Pasaulis (World) plan get the possibility to make off-peak hour calls to the selected group of countries without the additional monthly fee.

Market researches show that the payment plan customers are more loyal to the Company, which is an important aspect in the fierce competitive environment.

Other home users connect to the Internet via dial-up option; their number reached 26.8 thousand at the end of the year. In January 2004, the residential customers were offered the Internet plan: 30 hours of Internet browsing for 10 litas per month. At the end of the year the plan was used by 18 thousand users.

The broadband access Internet services, most popular with residential customers are Takas iD. They give the home users the possibility to use rapid and quality Internet communication with data or time restrictions for a relatively small monthly fee. The Takas iD group consists of three Internet plans: Takas iD1, Takas iD2, Takas iD3 and the Takas iD0 package (Internet with a PC).

The newest and presently most popular plan - Takas iD3 - was started to be offered to residential customers in July 2004. Its users are given the possibility to use the Internet not during the usual business hours and on weekends only for 26 litas per month. Approximately 15 thousand of users were using the plan at the end of the year.

More demanding home users choose the unrestricted Internet usage DSL Takas plans - A0 or A1.

During the year the number of lines of Grupė (Group) (Centrex – virtual private branch exchange) services increased by 9 thousand, i.e. by more than 44 per cent. At the end of the year the business customers of Lietuvos Telekomas used 29.6 thousand Grupė (Group) lines. This growth was induced by service functionality changes, attractive to the users: starting from March 2004 representatives of different companies can connect into a group.

Voice Telephony

Notwithstanding fierce competition, the domestic long-distance calls traffic, generated by business customers increased by 5.2 per cent in 2004. The increase was induced by the improving economy of Lithuania, reduction of the domestic long-distance calls tariffs in January 2004 and the new payment plan Miestai (Cities), giving the possibility to call at one tariff to any city or town of Lithuania for an additional fee. As the number of mobile telecommunications users was growing the business users' calls traffic to mobile telecommunication networks also increased – by 17.5 per cent. The Pasaulis (World) international calls payment plan, giving the possibility to make calls to the selected groups of foreign countries at especially attractive tariffs for an additional fee is also being sold rather successfully.

Business Numbers

In 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas continued providing its customers with various value added services, such as Service 700 (Universal Access Number), Service 800 (Toll-free Number Service), short numbering service and Service 900 (Premium Rate Service).

The numbers of services 700 and 800 and short numbers are most frequently used for improvement of customer care, the premium rate service numbers are used for sponsorship and charity projects, in which AB Lietuvos Telekomas quite frequently participates as a sponsor.

Internet Services

The Internet usage among the business customers remained stable. In 2004, the situation when all the big business customers, serviced by UAB Lietuvos Telekomo Verslo Sprendimai use the Internet was reached.

The DSL Takas (broadband access) and Atviras Takas (dial-up Internet) services are the most popular with the business customers. The said services are used by 13.4 thousand and 8.9 thousand business customers, respectively.

During the year 2004 the number of DSL Internet service users among the business customers grew by 40.5 per cent. Such growth was stipulated by changes in services and new offers. The pricing of DSL Takas plans for business customers was revised and the prices were reduced by 8 to 31 per cent. In order to ensure even greater competitive advantage the speed rate of DSL Takas service plans was increased in December 2004: some plans' speed rate was increased from 60 per cent up to 100 per cent.

In addition Lietuvos Telekomas provides its business customers permanent Internet connection via leased lines and broadband optical communication access services. The Internet connection via leased lines is more frequently used by the business customers, willing to connect their companies' local area networks (LAN) to the Internet at the speed rate of 4.5 Mbps. Due to high speed rate and quality the broadband optical Internet access service is mostly used by Internet service providers and banks. The service gives its users the possibility to have an Internet connection at the speed rate of up to 100 Mbps.

Data Communication Solutions

In 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas essentially changed its data communication solutions concept. The technologies, which previously were separate: MPLS, Frame Relay, X.25 protocol, etc., are presently joined into one group of services and referred to as data communication solutions. The main idea behind such rearrangement was the following – the customer needs the service, corresponding to its needs and functional requirements and does not care about the actual technology used for that purpose. The Company's task was to offer the customers data communication solutions, best compliant to their needs by using the existing technologies.

Until 2004 such complex solutions were offered only to big business customers, medium and small business customers were offered technology based solutions.

Contact Center Services

In 2004, UAB Lintel, providing the Contact Center services (previously referred to as Telemarketing services), handled 4.2 million calls, i.e. 6 per cent more than in 2003.

In the fourth quarter of 2004, the reports' project, aimed at giving the customers the possibility to view service provision statistic reports on the Internet in real time was implemented.

Wholesales Services

Network Interconnection and Voice Services

As it had been expected after the liberalization of Lithuania's fixed telephone communication market in 2003, the number of customers, reselling fixed telephone communication services was rapidly growing in 2004.

By the end of 2004 more than 20 operators, purchasing wholesale telephony services from Lietuvos Telekomas existed in the country. The international transit services business was developed. In June 2004, two international transit services different in quality and price were offered to domestic operators.

In order to reduce the costs of interconnection of Lietuvos Telekomas network with the mobile operators' networks and the prices to users' the Company succeeded in ensuring non-discriminative prices when settling for termination of Lietuvos Telekomas subscribers' calls traffic in Lithuania's mobile telecommunication operators' networks.

Sales of transit services on international markets were a success. Comparing with 2003, the calls traffic from one foreign country to another via Lithuania increased by more than 40 per cent in 2004.

The Internet and Data Communication Services

In 2004 AB Lietuvos Telekomas competed with eight wholesale Internet service providers, offering the Internet connection services. Notwithstanding fierce competition Lietuvos Telekomas managed to sell more than two times greater Internet connection channel transmission capacity.

The growing number of Internet users and the ever-increasing demand for high-quality services induced Lietuvos Telekomas to interconnect its Internet network with the third independent international Internet communication provider's network in June 2004. The additional channel ensured greater transmission capacity and reliability of Internet services to the customers of Lietuvos Telekomas.

At present Lietuvos Telekomas is the only international Internet communication service provider in Lithuania having three independent channels with global Internet communication service providers.

The wholesale ADSL services market was rapidly developing in Lithuania in 2004. At the end of the year 12 operators were offering wholesale ADSL services of Lietuvos Telekomas on the retail market. During the year the number of lines, connected to wholesale ADSL services grew almost two times and reached 2.7 thousand. In order to satisfy the needs of ADSL service providers they were offered high speed 2Mbps wholesale ADSL service.

In 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas invested into development of possibilities of provision of broadband communication services. The opportunities to provide broadband communication services in smaller towns of the country came into existence. The existing and new customers started using broadband communication services more actively, long-distance broadband connections were sold.

In order to utilize the existing technical feasibilities and develop the backbone network of Lietuvos Telekomas the wholesale service providers were offered high transmission capacity data communication services.

The Projects for Domestic and International Customers

In cooperation with domestic and international operators some significant international projects were implemented. The speed rate of data channel of interconnection of Lithuania's universities data communication network and GEANT Europe's universities data communication network was increased four times in cooperation with TeliaSonera.

The project, executed together with Rostelekom, aimed at interconnection of telecommunication networks of Lietuvos Telekomas and Rostelekom in Kaliningrad Area by optical cable was completed. After execution of the project the last analogue international transmission systems of Lietuvos Telekomas were closed and all the transit channels from Kaliningrad Area to Russia were cut over to digital.

In order to offer the customers a service package, best corresponding to their needs in the entire Nordic and Baltic region there has been active cooperation with TeliaSonera Group companies: the common telecommunication network was developed and the customers were serviced according to the principles of common standard.

A good deal of works and projects was implemented on the domestic wholesale service provision market. By utilizing the existing infrastructure and technical feasibilities the Company has been contributing to development of cable television in Lithuania: the common project with Balticum TV was implemented.

Network Infrastructure

Transmission Network

In 2004, the development of telecommunication network of AB Lietuvos Telekomas was oriented onto increase of transmission capacities of backbone network, implementation of new technological solutions and automation of technological processes.

Since the existing 2 national and 6 regional 2.5 Gbps transmission rings failed to satisfy the increasing needs for transmission network resources, the third national ring of 2.5 Gbps information transmission speed rate, ensuring the international gateway to the global Internet and satisfying the needs of lease of resources to other operators was installed in the backbone transmission network.

In addition 6 regional half-rings, ensuring satisfaction of the transmission needs in the increased speed rate ADSL network were installed last year. The transmission capacity of IP/MPLS backbone network was increased four times up to 622 Mbps.

Data Communication Network

In the second half of 2004, AB Lietuvos Telekomas essentially upgraded its ADSL network. Connection of approximately 85 per cent of ADSL network nodes to connecting nodes is realized with the help of STM-1 interfaces, i. e. the speed rate is increased up to 155 Mbps. The ADSL network nodes of the new type, which have been started to be implemented into the network, are connected with the help of the Ethernet technology. In the major cities Ethernet network is used for connection of ADSL network nodes. The ADSL technology nodes of the new type will bring the preconditions for provision of Internet access services of especially high speed rate (up to 26 Mbps).

The big demand for Internet network access services resulted in significant increase of ADSL network construction volumes. The number of installed ADSL lines increased from 36.4 thousand at the beginning of the year up to 62.5 thousand at the end of the year.

In order to implement the possibility of quick access to the Internet network at the end of the year the Company implemented point-to-multipoint solutions in Vilnius, Klaipėda and Šiauliai.

Access

The access network of Lietuvos Telekomas, consisting of copper, wireless and optical networks is developed and upgraded according to the market needs.

In 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas drew a special attention to DSL access technology. At present the Company provides different ADSL services with the data downstream speed rate ranging from 128 Kbps to 4,096 Kbps and data upstream speed from 64 Kbps to 640 Kbps.

At the end of 2004, the Company had 50.2 thousand ADSL inlets installed. The service is available to 86 per cent of AB Lietuvos Telekomas customers at the major cities, district centers and larger towns and settlements.

In 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas, by using GSM technology, started the project aimed at cut over of overhead telecommunication lines (the project is continued in 2005).

Switching Network

In 2004, AB Lietuvos Telekomas continued the digitalization of exchanges, partially replacing certain analogue exchanges in rural areas. During 2004 the network digitalization level increased from 91.2 per cent at the beginning of the year up to 92.7 per cent at the end of the year. The rapid growth of the number of data communication services users and the need to reduce the activity costs resulted in the need to implement projects on automation of technological processes. In 2004, many tools for automation of reservation and management of services, cut-over of customers and other important technological processes were implemented into Network Information System (NIS) and Network Management System (NMS). The possibilities of remote management of ADSL, PSTN and ISDN services came into existence and the services are delivered to the users in a quicker manner.

Tariffs for the services

In February 1998, the Company introduced local call tariffs and started rebalancing of tariffs for its services. Tariffs were rebalanced following the price cap formula provided in the Telecommunications Activities Licence No. 174/97. According to it, AB Lietuvos Telekomas had a right to increase its tariffs by 10 per cent plus an inflation rate. By tariff rebalancing, the Company was seeking to achieve better correspondence between revenue from services and expenses of services. Tariffs for telecommunication services were rebalanced in April 1999, February 2000, January 2001 and July 2002.

From 1 August 2001 all calls in the fixed telephony network and calls from the fixed-line network to mobile networks are calculated on the second-rounding basis and a call set-up charge is introduced.

Socially disadvantaged customers (from 1 August 2001 until 31 December 2001) and retired customers (from 1 September 2001 until 31 December 2001) (around 400,000 customers in total) were paying a reduced monthly subscription fee of 17 litas. From the beginning of 2002 till the year end the fee was further reduced to 16 litas.

From January 2003, Lietuvos Telekomas stopped applying the lower subscription fee of 16 litas for socially disadvantaged and retired residential customers. This group of customers was offered the Vietinis (Local) payment plan at a discount of 5 litas.

On 1 September 2003, tariffs for off-peak local and long-distance calls were cut down significantly. Off-peak local call price was reduced from 0.08 litas to 0.03 litas per minute, and off-peak long-distance call price went down from 0.30 litas to 0.09 litas per minute. In January 2004 peak long-distance call price was reduced from 0.40 litas to 0.26 litas.

AB Lietuvos Telekomas provides telecommunications services in the whole territory of the Republic of Lithuania.

Till 1 May 2005 the Customer Service Department of AB Lietuvos Telekomas served residential and small and medium size business customers, and the Company's daughter company, UAB Lietuvos Telekomo Verslo Sprendimai, on behalf of Lietuvos Telekomas provided services and solutions to major business and public sector customers. Business Customers Department also serves customers that earlier on behalf of Lietuvos Telekomas were served by UAB Lietuvos Telekomo Verslo Sprendimai.

The majority of Lietuvos Telekomas' services are provided following the long-term agreements with its subscribers.

At present the competition on Lithuania's telecommunication market is especially fierce therefore the ability to understand the needs of the customer and satisfy his expectations is of utmost importance. It is practically impossible to secure the market leader's position without developing professional customer care.

In autumn of 2004, the Company started reaching the following target - peculiar improvement of quality level of customer care. The new Customer Service Standard was developed and introduced. Hundreds of employees of the Company, mostly those directly communicating with the customers were taught customer care peculiarities according to the new standard at special training courses. The Company strives for each of its employees to comprehend and execute the commitments to the customers.

At present the customers are served in different ways: at customer care centers, located at ten major cities of the country, by telephone (at call centers) and on the Internet (at <http://mano.telecom.lt>). Approximately 350 thousand customers were served at customer care centers and more than 2 million - at call centers in 2004. From the beginning of the year faults can be registered and complaints from the customers of Wholesales Department can be received by e-mail and by short telephone 1595. Taking the needs of the customers into consideration the Internet order management system was updated.

Subsidiaries, which are those companies in which Lietuvos Telekomas' Group (the Group), directly or indirectly, has an interest of more than one half the voting rights or otherwise has power to govern the financial and operating policies are consolidated. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group and are no longer consolidated from the date that control ceases. The purchase method of accounting is used to account for the acquisition of subsidiaries. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets given up, shares issued or liabilities undertaken at the date of acquisition plus costs directly attributable to the acquisition. The excess of the cost of acquisition over the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired is recorded as goodwill. Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated; unrealised losses are also eliminated unless cost cannot be recovered.

Investments in associates are accounted for by the equity method of accounting. Under this method the company's share of the post-acquisition profits or losses of associates is recognised in the income statement and its share of post-acquisition movements in reserves is recognised in reserves. The cumulative post-acquisition movements are adjusted against the cost of the investment. Associates are entities over which the Group generally has between 20% and 50% of the voting rights, or over which the Group has significant influence, but which it does not control. Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the associates; unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Goodwill arising on acquisition of associates is included under intangible assets in the Group accounts. When the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interest in the associate, the Group does not to recognise further losses, unless the Group has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the associates.

Reduction of tariffs for telecommunication services that started in the fall of 2003, increased the number of free of charge hours for subscribers payment plans in spring 2004, a number of various discount campaigns combined with decreased number of main lines in service caused a continuous decline in revenue from fixed-line telephony services. In 2004, the revenue from fixed-line telephony decreased by 13.2 per cent and amounted to LTL 547 million (LTL 630 million in 2003). Revenue from subscription fees declined by 6 per cent, revenue from traffic charges and interconnection services by 21 per cent and 9.6 per cent, respectively, while revenue from value-added services increase by 3.5 and revenue from wholesales services almost doubled, year-on-year.

On the other hand, in 2004 loyalty of the customers and usage of services increased significantly. During the year 2004 more than 52 thousand new fixed-line telephony lines were installed while 61 thousand were disconnected. Number of main lines used by business customers even increased a bit and at the end of 2004 amounted to more than 175 thousand or 21 per cent of total number of lines. As of 31 December 2004 number of main lines in service was 819,147 and fixed-line telephony penetration rate in Lithuania stood at 23.9.

For the first year since 2001 traffic figures are higher than in previous year. Compared with 2003, the total local calls traffic in 2004 went up by 12.3 per cent, long-distance calls up by 13 per cent, calls from fixed-line to mobile networks up by 19.4 per cent, international calls up by 14.8 per cent and Internet dial-up calls surged by 125.8 per cent.

At the end of December 2004 number of payment plans subscribed by the customers reached 420 thousand (381 thousand a year ago). In February 2004, the most popular local calls' payment plan, Vietinis (Local), which accounts for 80 per cent of the total number of subscribed payment plans, was improved by additional 30 hours free of charge calls during off peak time and weekends for the same subscription fee. The number of subscribers to international calls' payment plan, Pasaulis (World), which offers lower than regular international calls' tariffs increased by 3.6 times over the year. In January 2004, the Company offered a new domestic long-distance calls payment plan, Miestai (Cities).

In 2004, the revenue from Internet and data communication services increased by 8.8 per cent from LTL 120 million for 2003 to LTL 130 million for 2004. The revenue from Internet services grew by 21.5 per cent but revenue from data communication and network services separately went down by 5.6 per cent.

During the year the number of Lietuvos Telekomas' Internet access services users was growing continuously. At the end of December 2004 the total number of DSL Takas service users was 47,465 (23,699 a year ago) and 2,734 xDSL connections were sold as wholesales. In July, the Company introduced a new Internet plan, Takas iD3, which offers unlimited Internet access during off-peak time, weekends and holidays for just 26 litas a month (data download speed up to 256 kbit/s, upload - up to 128 kbit/s). By the end of 2004 more than 15 thousand of Internet users were subscribers to this plan.

In spite of substitution effect due to development of broadband Internet access the total number of dial-up Internet access service users at the end of the year was almost the same as at the beginning - more than 35 thousand. And what is more, number of subscribers to dial-up Internet payment plan, Internet (Internet), which was improved in January by giving 30 hours of Internet access for just 10 litas, increased drastically from 391 to 18 thousand at the end of 2004.

The revenue from other activities went down by 25.5 per cent from LTL 58 million for 2003 to LTL 43 million for 2004 mainly due to decrease in revenue from UAB Comliet construction activities. (Revenue from disposal of property, plant and equipment for the years 2003 and 2004 are moved from other activities revenue into separate profit (loss) statement line of gain on disposal of property, plant and equipment).

Expenses

The total operating expenses of Lietuvos Telekomas' Group in the year 2004 went down by 7.5 per cent to LTL 393 million against expenses (excluding loss on disposal of property, plant and equipment) of LTL 425 million for the year 2003. The employee-related expenses decreased by 7.2 per cent. In the first half of 2004, Lietuvos Telekomas underwent changes in organizational structure and as a result the number of employees was reduced. During the year the total number of employees in Lietuvos Telekomas' Group went down from 3,586 (31 Dec. 2003) to 3,120 (31 Dec.). The total additional employee redundancy expenses amounted to LTL 12 million. The number of main lines per one core business employee increased from 281 (31 Dec. 2003) to 334 (31 Dec. 2004).

Compared with the year 2003, the other expenses went down by 8.1 per cent, provisions for doubtful accounts receivable were reduced by 2.6 times and from being negative became positive, while interconnection expenses increased by 1.8 per cent due increased traffic from Lietuvos Telekomas network to the networks of other operators. External construction expenses (UAB Comliet activities) went down by 23.1 per cent.

Net Results

In spite of reduction of expenses and due to lower revenue level EBITDA in 2004 went down by 14.4 per cent to LTL 328 million compared to EBITDA (excluding gain on disposal of property, plant and equipment) of LTL 383 million in 2003. Nevertheless, EBITDA margin was 45.4 per cent (47.4 per cent a year ago).

In 2004, regular depreciation and amortization charges excluding assets revaluation charge of LTL 46.8 million in 2003 went down by 17.1 per cent. Depreciation and amortization charges still amounted up to 40 per cent of the total Group's revenue.

Following the amendments to the International Financial Reporting Standards gain (loss) on disposal of property, plant and equipment should be shown at net value separately in the profit (loss) statement therefore revenue and/or loss from disposal of property, plant and equipment are excluded from total revenue and/or expenses.
